

PROSPECTS FOR BASEBALL.

NEW HAVEN MAY BE REPRESENTED IN THE EASTERN LEAGUE.

Attempt Will be Made to Form a Team Here—Eastern League Anxious to Add This City to Its Circuit—Two Other Proposed Leagues Also Want New Haven.

One more attempt will probably be made during the coming season to revive the national game of baseball in this city, and the indications now are that the effort will be successful. There is no reason why a city with nearly 100,000 inhabitants should not support a ball team, if it were properly and economically managed, and the general impression is that such a team would be a success here.

The Eastern league has its eye on this city, and is extremely anxious to have a team located here. This would materially strengthen the league's circuit, and at the same time reduce the traveling expenses of the other teams in the league, as it would break the present long jumps from New York state to Springfield and Providence. In order to accomplish this result, it is said that the league would be willing to assist in supporting a team in this city until such time as the local team became self-supporting.

Under these circumstances the prospects of baseball being revived in this city during the coming season seem unusually favorable. Ted Sullivan, the well known player and manager, has been in the city recently and looked over the ground thoroughly, and before his departure expressed his belief that this city would be represented on the diamond during the coming season as a member of the Eastern league. So encouraged was he with the outlook that he said he would be perfectly willing to come to this city and manage the team and invest his own money in the enterprise.

While here he called upon a number of baseball enthusiasts, and it is said that all whom he saw expressed a willingness to help form a stock company with a capital stock of $2,000, which would be a sufficient amount and secure a franchise in the Eastern league. If the team is formed the grounds will in all probability be located at Elm City driving park, which is now, owing to the introduction of electricity on the Fair Haven and Westville road, with easy access of all parts of the city. It is also thought that the railroad company would be willing to take considerable stock in the new enterprise. In fact, it is said that such assurances were given to Sullivan while he was in this city.

In reference to the grounds the Huggins, who are always interested in all kinds of sport, have expressed a willingness to have the games played at their driving park, and it is also said that they would take stock in the new enterprise. Manager Sullivan will return to this city within a week or two, and at once begin the formation of a stock company, or at least will attempt to do so. It is believed that a team could be made a success in this city, and would be self-supporting almost from the beginning.

Two other proposed baseball leagues are also anxious to secure New Haven as a member of their circuit. These are the proposed reorganized Atlantic association, and the proposed state league. The former would be composed of eight clubs representing cities along the Atlantic coast, while in the latter it is proposed to place teams representing Hartford, Meriden, Bridgeport, Stamford or Winsted, Norwalk, New Britain, Waterbury and New Haven.

In the event, however, of a team being formed here it would undoubtedly become a member of the eastern league, but should the league not be willing to admit New Haven the club could then become a member of either of the other organizations. In any event the prospects for a revival of baseball during the coming season are considered very bright.

Fell on the Ice.

George C. Reif, the well known proprietor of Turn Hall assembly rooms, while going home Friday night fell on the ice near his home and was badly shaken up. No bones were broken, but his injuries, while not considered serious, will probably confine him to his home for several days.

Funeral of Owen H. Morris.

The funeral services of the late Owen H. Morris took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Goodwin, No. 68 Minor street, were well attended by friends, including quite a number of old residents. Rev. Mr. Scoville of Trinity P. E. church officiated. A sheet of wheat and palm leaves lay upon the casket. The pallbearers were Messrs. C. E. Hanson, A. H. Hurlburt, Robert Sizer, C. E. Bennett, Samuel H. Barnes and B. Reilly. Undertaker Keller had charge of the funeral. The interment was in the Evergreen cemetery.

Funeral of Priscilla Prince.

The funeral services of Priscilla Prince, a colored woman, aged sixty-two years, sister of Martin Talman of 15 Webster street, took place yesterday at Dixwell avenue Congregational church, Rev. Mr. Miller officiating. She died at the residence of a relative on Forty-first street, New York city. The interment was in the Westville cemetery, Undertaker Keller having charge of the funeral.

GENIAL SAMUEL PASTER.

An Old and Very Accommodating Letter Carrier Receives a True Reward.

Samuel Paster, one of the oldest and well known letter carriers, was transferred January 1 from his old route, which he had covered for about ten years, to a route in another part of the city. Mr. Paster was given a fine surprise a few days ago, and one which he will always remember with pleasure, not only for its value, but especially as it is a testimonial to his faithful service as a public official. He was presented with a purse of $127.50, a gift from people whom he had served on his old route, many of them for about ten years. The testimonial is a representative one, as all portions of the route were represented, the donations coming from every block on the route.

FAIR HAVEN.

Friday evening there was a scene of merriment at No. 114 Exchange street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Barnes, where they celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The occasion was a surprise. About sixty friends called to offer congratulations and left substantial tokens of their esteem. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Forbes, who reside in the same house, kindly opened their rooms also, and the evening was pleasantly spent in listening to piano music by H. Woodstock, vocal solos by Miss Flavia Ford and Fred Foote, also recitations by Mrs. L. C. Goodrich. Games were indulged in and late in the evening refreshments were served. The gifts included chairs, silver, tin and glassware, hat rack, rug, pictures and numerous other articles. Among those that called were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. William Booth and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Lewis of Wallingford, Joseph W. Oviatt of Milford, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. William Sheffield and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Barnes, Willie Barnes, Mrs. Robert Cunningham, G. E. Wilcox, Mrs. N. C. Frink, E. B. Frink, Miss Frink, Mrs. L. C. Goodrich, W. H. Goodrich, Miss Minnie Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Foote, Fred Foote, Edwin Foote, Herbert Foote, Miss Anna, Mrs. Walter P. Hovey, Mrs. Ella Connor and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. Rev. Dr. Sage occupied the pulpit of the Grand avenue Baptist church yesterday after two weeks' revival work in Meriden, where he assisted Rev. W. G. Fennell of the First Baptist church. The meetings were very successful, a goodly number having been converted. Mr. Fennell will come here next week and assist Dr. Sage in a series of meetings to be held in the Grand avenue Baptist church.

At the Y. M. C. A. meeting yesterday afternoon Evangelist John M. Dick was assisted by S. E. Evans, gospel singer of Cincinnati, O., and formerly with D. L. Moody.

The road department sent a sand cart around early yesterday morning and the dangerous street crossings were rendered safe for pedestrians. The favor was appreciated and should be often repeated.

During the sleighing the past week at Hamilton Park several Fair Haven horses were trotted over the track. B. S. Bradley, who reaped his trotter, Haven for trotting a horse to a sleigh. More of the local horses would have been taken to the park, but for the fact that it was difficult to drag a sleigh there over the almost bare ground.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hemingway expect to leave on Thursday for the south. They will make their first stop in Norfolk, where they will visit their son, Henry Ellenberger, who is spending a few days in Washington.

There is some prospect that a band of the Loyal Crusaders will be organized here. Mrs. Leeds, who is the superintendent of the work, was here last week explaining its objects and interesting the temperance people in the enterprise.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Lee Mitchell will shortly vacate their present residence, 238 Grand avenue, and for the present will board with Dr. E. C. Hall, 32 Grand avenue. The vacated house will be occupied by the owner, N. S. Ludington.

"Colleen Bawn" is to be given for the benefit of St. Francis' church in April by the cast who recently produced "Robert Emmet" at the Hyperion theater. It will be under the direction of E. J. Hassan.

REMINISCENCES OF THE NAVY.

By Our Well-Known and Esteemed D. Goffe Phillips—Days of 1839 to 1846 Recalled.

The friends of our well known and esteemed citizen, Captain D. Goffe Phillips, will be pleased to know that an opportunity will be afforded them to hear the captain's reminiscences of the navy while he was an officer in the service from 1839 to 1846.

He was associated with such notable men as Captain Isaac Hull, Commodore Stewart and others, who were conspicuous in the navy during the war of 1812. Captain Phillips was an officer on the celebrated U. S. S. "Constitution" and other historic vessels. There is a romance of the seas, especially in life on board a man-of-war in the days before steam was adopted as a motive power for our ships, the review of which cannot fail to be of more than ordinary interest, when told by one who was in the service in those days.

The paper will be read before Captain Bligh Peck gunnery No. 106, Regular Army and Navy union, in room 37 Insurance building on Monday evening, January 28. The captain is a member of this organization, which will hold an open meeting for the occasion.

Besides the address of Captain Phillips the officers of the garrison will be installed and there will be music and the army band given by E. L. Tooker, late of the regular army.

VISITING IN NEW HAVEN.

The Rapid Growth of Rochester, N. Y.—Other Notes.

Mr. Ben Harned of Rochester, N. Y., and his wife are in town, the former for a few days, the latter for a few weeks. Mr. Harned is a son-in-law of Mr. P. Ferry, the Church street baker and restaurant proprietor. Mr. Harned is well and most favorably remembered here. He was with Mr. P. Ferry for years, when the latter was located in business on State street, between Court and Elm streets. He succeeded to the branch bakery business in Rochester, which was started by Mr. Ferry about twelve years ago and which was prosperous from the start. Mr. Harned has now been located in Rochester for eleven years, and his business has grown and prospered until he now has, in addition to a very prosperous bakery business, the finest restaurant for ladies and gentlemen in western New York and occupies three elegant stores in the Powers hotel block, the finest hotel in Rochester, two of the stores being devoted to his strictly first-class in all respects and patronized by the best people of Rochester. Rochester is a fast growing city. It is growing far more rapidly than New Haven, and New Haven is making rapid progress. Mr. Harned has in these eleven years seen Rochester grow in population from 80,000 to 150,000—a big growth in eleven years. The city has at the present time five fine buildings equal in character and importance to that which the First National bank of this city is erecting, and some of them are taller buildings. The Lehigh Valley railroad is about to erect a large and handsome depot in Rochester. The city is penetrated in every direction by electric street car lines, and all the many lines are consolidated under one management and many of the cars are vestibule cars and very handsomely equipped. The city has every encouragement to grow and develop, owing to its location as a railroad center, being on the line of half a dozen noted big lines of steam railroad. Mr. Harned has grown robust and would be readily selected from his appearance as a popular, prosperous and estimable business man.

FUNERAL OF JOHN ADT.

Many Friends Attend the Services Yesterday—Addresses by Rev. Messrs. Luckey and Cooper—Elegant Floral Offerings.

The funeral services of John Adt were held yesterday afternoon at his late residence on Humphrey street, attended by a large assembly of sorrowing friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Luckey of Humphrey street Congregational church and Rev. Mr. Cooper of the Epworth M. E. church. Rev. Mr. Luckey offered prayer and read from the scriptures. Following Rev. Mr. Cooper made impressive remarks, in which he paid a fine tribute to the deceased, as a man alive and zealous for the improvement of mankind, a man who sought the welfare of his fellow man, who opposed shams, and who had the martyr spirit in standing up regardless of opposition for what he deemed likely to help purify and elevate mankind. Yet all recognized the sincerity of the man and his evident single-hearted desire to truly benefit others. The speaker summed up the character of the deceased under three heads, viz.: As a citizen, a patriot and a Christian. As a citizen he was an example for others zealous for what was right and true; as a patriot he was intensely loyal and patriotic, an American to the core at heart, although he came from another land; as a Christian, though not a member of any church, he was in earnest accord and sympathy with the promotion of Christ's kingdom and was a member of the Church of Christ universal. He was a liberal giver to the churches and thus by deeds and actions showed his colors.

Rev. Mr. Luckey followed with a few very appropriate and beautiful words of eulogy and consolation and closed the services with prayer. The burial, it was announced, would be at the convenience of the family. The casket was opened and many took a last look at the face of the sleeper, which was peaceful and very life-like. He seemed like one in a quiet slumber, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

There were exquisite floral tributes. Among them was a magnificent massive offering of roses, white carnations and call lilies, the design being a pillow surmounted by a floral crest, representing the rising sun. The piece was a tribute of love and esteem from the manufacturer, which the deceased conducted and was inscribed in purple immortal "Our Employer." Another elegant large piece of roses, carnations and call lilies was from the "Ben Franklin Social Circle."

The remains will be taken to Torrington to-day for interment. The deceased resided for several years in Torrington just after coming to this country. Beside the other relatives hitherto mentioned he leaves three brothers, Louis Adt of Waterbury, Ferdinand Adt of Torrington and one other in France; also one sister, who resides in Hartford. Mr. J. G. Cutler of Waterbury, a brother-in-law, was among the relatives present.

The business of the Adt manufactory will go on under the charge of the nephew of deceased, Howard Adt, who has been with deceased for some time past as assistant.
